

Virginia Coastal Resilience Master Plan

Regional Public Meeting Summary

The Office of the Virginia Secretary of Natural Resources (SNR) is hosting eight regional public meetings throughout the coastal Virginia Region in late July and early August. Meeting information is located on our website Virginia.gov/CoastalResilience. All meeting facilities are ADA Accessible. If you require additional accommodations (translators, etc.), please contact resilientcoastVA@governor.virginia.gov at least two days before the meeting and let us know what sort of assistance you require.

The goal of these initial public meetings is to educate public stakeholders about the Coastal Resilience Master Plan (CRMP) and to capture input that can help inform CRMP efforts moving forward. The meetings will include a 15-minute presentation on the project's purpose, goals, and potential impacts to the localities. Attendees will then be invited to circulate through four activity stations, as described below, to provide their thoughts and ideas, and to share their lived experiences with flooding.
