

We need your help! We are hosting Public Meetings to capture your insight and feedback, your perspective on flooding issues in your community, as well as to present the flood impact study completed for the PDCs.

- George Washington RC – July 27, Germanna Community College, Fredericksburg, VA
- PlanRVA (Richmond Regional PDC): July 28, 9211 Forest Hill Avenue, Suite 200, Richmond, VA 23235
- Crater PDC – July 29, 10001 Iron Bridge Road, Chesterfield, VA 23832
- Northern Neck PDC – August 4, 457 Main Street, Warsaw, VA 22572
- Hampton Roads PDC – August 5, 723 Woodlake Drive, Chesapeake, VA 23320
- Accomack-Northampton PDC – August 11, Eastern Shore Community College, Melfa, VA
- Northern Virginia RC – August 10, Northern Virginia Community College - Annandale
- Middle Peninsula PDC – August 3, Rappahannock Community College, Glens Campus, 12745 College Drive, Saluda VA

Additionally, the Public Survey can be completed online by scanning this QR code or by following the link below.

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/VACRMP-Public>

You can also follow the Secretary of Natural Resources on Twitter (@NatResourcesVA), and tag your comments or questions with #VACRMP.

About the Plan

The Master Plan brings together: a coastal risk and impact assessment; adaptation and resilience strategies; a project identification database and project evaluation process, recommendations for best practices; and potential financing strategies and funding sources, all into one, cohesive, online resource, for use by regional, and local governments, other stakeholders, and the public.

By taking a broader view along our entire coastal region, we can identify and address both the shared and unique challenges coastal residents face. The Commonwealth can also coordinate local, regional, state, and federal adaptation and resilience efforts and related programs to maximize their impact, encourage equitable treatment of traditionally underserved populations, align coastal resilience with environmental protection, and ensure that we leave no community behind.

Contact Us

To learn more about the Commonwealth's Coastal Resilience Master Plan Project, request more information on the project's tasks or outputs, or become more involved, please email us at:

resilientcoastVA@governor.virginia.gov or visit our website at <https://www.naturalresources.virginia.gov/initiatives/coastal-resilience-master-plan-progress/>.